Hill County

Located in northcentral Montana, Hill County is Montana's 10th most populous with 17,654 residents, according to the 1990 Census.

Havre, the county seat, is the state's ninth largest city with a population of 10,811. The city is a major rail transportation area and close to the Canadian border. Hill County is home to the Rocky Boy's Indian Reservation.

According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1912 and named after Great Northern Railway builder James J. Hill. The authors add Havre was named for Le Havre, a French seaport.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Hill County households in 1989 was $25,467. The county is 2,916.1 square miles in area; 2,896.4 square miles in land area and 19.7 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. According to the Great Falls Weather Service, the average daily low in Havre in January between 1961 and 1990 was 3.8 degrees above zero and average January snowfall 8.4 inches. The average daily high in July was 85.1 degrees above. The annual precipitation during the same period was 11.17 inches and the growing season was from April 21 to Oct. 14.

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county fliers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employers are updated annually. Per Capita Income statewide is usually released late spring. Population data for Montana is released in late December and county data in March. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
